Your Right to Access Your Information:

- You have the right to request an inspection of your records or to receive copies of information about yourself that is in KernBHRS records. A team supervisor or LPHA will review all requests for access to determine if such access might endanger the life or physical safety of you or another person. KernBHRS has the right to deny access under certain circumstances. Another person may represent you if they are legally authorized to do so by Federal or state laws or regulations.
- If your request for inspection of records is approved, you have a right to inspect your treatment record within five (5) working days following receipt of your request. If your request for copies of records is approved, you have a right to receive a copy within fifteen (15) working days from the date of receiving your request. If there are delays in getting you the answer, you will be told. The delay cannot be more than 30 days. You will receive an answer in writing.
- You will be charged a fee for copies or summaries of your records unless you can present proof that the records are needed to support your appeal regarding eligibility for a public benefit program (e.g., Medi-Cal; Social Security Disability (SSD); Supplemental Security Income (SSI)).
